

Consultant Opportunity Response / Assignment

Purpose

This form is used after Admin has approved a project for consultant sourcing and circulated an approved consultant-facing opportunity, request clarification, express interest, decline, and, if selected, complete the required project-specific declaration.

This form must support two routes:

- 1. Onboarded ORR consultants — consultants already approved on the ORR consultant platform.
- 2. External consultants — consultants not yet onboarded, who may receive only a restricted project opportunity summary access is granted.

ions before access is activated.

y and must complete onboarding before any assignment or

Developer Notes

Generate a unique opportunity reference when the project summary is circulated. Suggested format: ORR-OPP-000001.

Must link the response to the relevant project.

Consultant should not automatically see the Client ID.

Visibility depends on confidentiality/access settings.

Required for onboarded consultants. External consultants will not have this until onboarding is completed.

Required only for external consultants receiving a restricted opportunity invitation.

This must be the Admin-approved version. External consultants should only see the restricted version.

Pulled from project record.

Pulled from the approved consultant-facing summary or project requirements.

Shows what ORR may require from the consultant.

Should be clear enough for the consultant to judge suitability.

May be approximate at opportunity stage.

Helps consultant assess suitability.

Pulled from project requirements.

Should be displayed before the consultant can respond.

This is an expression of interest only, not assignment acceptance.

Required if consultant selects “I am interested” or “I may be interested”.

Useful for Admin/PM selection, especially where several consultants respond.

Helps Admin/PM shortlist consultants.

Should not override the consultant profile permanently unless consultant confirms update.

Required if consultant selects “I need clarification”. Should notify Admin/PM.

Required if consultant declines. Helps ORR improve matching.

External consultants may express interest but cannot be assigned or receive project access until fully onboarded and approved.

Display only to external consultants.

Links external consultant to the consultant onboarding form. Project Opportunity ID should be retained so Admin can trace the source.

Admin/PM can mark response as Shortlisted, Not Shortlisted, Reserve, or Needs Follow-up.

Used to compare interested consultants.

Admin/PM marks chosen consultant(s). Selection does not yet activate project access.

Triggered only after Admin/PM selects the consultant.

This may be narrower than the whole project.

Example: “Prepare regulatory gap review section” or “Review technical architecture.”

Should be earlier than client delivery deadline.

Visibility should be configurable. Internal commercial data may remain Admin-only.

Required once a formal assignment offer is issued.

Required before formal acceptance.

Required before access activation. If conflict is declared, status should become Conflict Review Required.

Required if consultant discloses a conflict. Admin must review before proceeding.

Required before access activation.

Required before access activation, especially where client documents or personal data are involved.

Acceptance alone does not activate access.

Set by Admin/PM after acceptance and compliance checks.

Access activated only after assignment acceptance, conflict clearance, confidentiality reconfirmation, and Admin/PM approval.

Status should be visible to Admin/PM. Consultant may see simplified status.

Record when consultant submits response.

Update when response, selection, assignment, or access status changes.

Usually Admin or system-generated circulation.

Record which consultants received the opportunity summary.

Store which approved consultant-facing summary version was sent.
